COVERDALE & ARGHER.

THEY SET THE FASHION.

These Cartersville boys set the pace for the fashionable world. They say one of them went to a swell tailor in Atlanta last week to have a pair of trousers out, and upon being asked what sized legs he desired, he wanted to know what was the largest they had ever made. The reply was from 30 to 32 inches. "Make mine 34," he said, "for I intend to break the record or bust."
So if you see a man on the street whose pants-trousers, I should have said—flap like the sails on a double-masted schooner, you may know him to be the record breaker of whom I write.— Cartersville, (Ga.) Courier.

A "POVERTY SOCIETY" has been started in Russia, the object of which is to popularize poverty among the poor, and to teach them that their lot is not one to be repined at, since the finest pleasures of life can be enjoyed independent of money.

WITH POMP AND DISPLAY!

The Celebration of Labor Day Proves
a Grand Success—Thousands
Festivities.

This was a gala day for organized labor, and the celebration was an astonishing success, notwithstanding the fact that there was an overcast sky and a drizzling rain early in the forenoon; and also that it was the inaugural celebration of Labor Day by the trades and labor unions of this city.

The first Monday in September was adopted by the New York Central Labor union some years ago as labor's national holiday, and since then union after union in their national conventions have adopted it, an action that resulted in several state legislatures setting it aside as a legal holiday.

Fort Wayne's first celebration was a grand success. At an early hour as 6 o'clock strangers began to flock into the city followed in succession by train loads from all directions, the people taking advantage of the liberal excusion rates offered by all the railroads.

The first feature of the day's program was the parade. Before 8 o'clock the streets were filled with spectators, trades and labor unions, uniformed men, wagons bedecked in high colors, and other things, a sight of itself exciting, which was heightened by the music of bands, the noise of drums, the din of tin horns, etc.

The procession moved from the city hall square at 10 o'clock. The entire affair was on a magnitude not heretofore witnessed here. The line of march as published, was not deviated from. The order was as follows:

Police patrol and police force.

Mayor Harding and thirteen members of the common council, the other five councilmen being unavoidably absent.

President George R. Hench of the Trades and Labor council accompanied by Mrs. Williams-Patterson, of Chicago and Mr. Wm. Nichols of Indianapolis, speakers of the day, in open carriage.

Then came the City band, followed by the following organizations:

Trades and labor council, stone cutters union, hod carriers, turners, cigar-makers, carpenters and joiners, with drum corps, typographical union, stationary engineers, with drum corps, Roanoke band, order of railway brakemen, Wayne Castle No. 2 of Golden Eagles, Sports and Brunswick baseball teams, Rifles, under command of Capt. Frank Rawles, First Regiment band, butchers, fire department, bricklayers, Knights of Labor, locomotive firemen, sangerbunds, switchmen and others.

The industrial parade was a monstrous affair, being represented by manufacturers and merchants, and it included many novel features.

They came in the following order:

Charles F. Muhler, lime, tile, etc.; Clayton, Purcell & Co., commission merchants, three wagons; Julius Nathan,
liquor; Sam, Pete & Max, clothing; H.
J. Ash, stoves; Skelton, Watt & Wilt, pany, Robert Spice, two wagons; A. F.

Gessler, meat market, D. Shordon, F.
C. & J. M. Parham, two vehicles and agricultural implements in motion; Gerding & Aumann's store; Wilding & Son, six wagons; C. H. Miller's Sportsman's Emporium, Ryan Brothers' elegant new safe, piano and moving car,
P. Cox, plumbing, John Pressler, natural gas supplies.

The procession moved to the fair grounds, where this afternoon a vast throng enjoyed the features, among which were addresses by Mrs. E. C.
Williams-Patterson, of Chicago; Mr.
William Nichols, of Indianapolis; President Hench also delivered an address.
There was a game of ball between the Sports and Brunswick and a balloon ascension was to take place by Professor Keesler, of Peoria. The city and county offices were closed and there was a

A Mob of Strikers' Compel Workmen to Leave Their Labors.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The strike situation is unchanged this morning.
Neither side has made any further move toward a settlement.

A mob of 800 strikers invaded the Albert docks this afternoon and compelled the workmen there to cease their labors.

LAWYER KILLED

By a Husband Because He Undertakes a Divorce Suit Against Him.

PRINCETON, Ind., Sept. 2.—D.
Doughty, a prominent lawyer of Oakland City, in this county, was yesterday struck on the head and killed by Karl McKenny. The wife of McKenny had left him and employed Doughty to secure a divorce. Doughty went to her home on business connected with the suit, where McKenny found and attacked him. McKenny is under arrest. Indignation runs high.

RACE TROUBLE.

The Military Called Out in Louisiana to Quell a Disturbance.

GREENWOOD, La., Sept. 2.—A race war is threatened at Shell Mound, ten miles above here. The trouble grows out of the Farmer's Alliance organization. Two negroes opened stores, styling them "Alliance stores." To this the whites objected openly and with determination. The negroes declined to yield an inch. Both are arming and collecting forces and hostilities are imminent. Gov. Lowry has left for the scene of the disturbance with five companies of militia.

MARSHALL, Ill., Sept. 2.—Dr. J. H.
Hazen died on Saturday night aged ninety-one. He was one of those who accompanied Perry in his perilous passage from the disabled flag ship, Lawrence French to Niagara in open boat in 1813.

Resumed Work.

READING, Pa., Sept. 2.—The foundry, rolling mills, and pipe and tube mills of the Reading-Iron company resumed partial operations this morning after an idleness of six months.

Embezzler Returns.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 2.—John Lee West, who was arrested here in March last for embezzlement in New Orleans, has returned to that city to stand his trial.

Looms Idle.

BLACKBURN, Eng., Sept. 2.—Owing to depression in trade three thousand

THE DAY IN OTHER CITIES!

New York, Chicago, Detroit, and Other Cities of the Country.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was generally observed. Business was almost wholly suspended and the streets wore a Sunday like appearance. The weather is cool and clear. Extraordinary efforts were made by the various labor organizations and the day was fittingly celebrated, and some twenty thousand wage workers marched in the
displayed from many of the buildings and shipping in the harbor had their colors hoisted to the breeze in honor of the day.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 2.—The weather here is clear and hot. Labor Day is being generally observed by the laboring classes. A split between the union men and Knights of Labor resulted in two parades. Neither faction, however, made the display they have done hitherto, but the ranks of the Knights show the greatest depletion. Factories are closed and the city hall and some stores and private residences are decorated in honor of the day.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Labor Day was generally observed in this city.
The city hall, court house and all of the public buildings were decorated with flags and bunting. Nearly all of the various labor organizations formed in procession and marched through the principal streets.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 2.—Labor Day is being generally observed here to-day. A large trades assembly parade formed at 10 o'clock and passed through the principal streets.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—To-day, Labor's National holiday, was observed by two parades and two picnics, one by the Knights of Labor assemblies and the other by the Trades assemblies.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2.—Labor Day was generally observed here to-day.
BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was more generally observed in Boston than in the past two years. Business is entirely suspended.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 2.—Labor day was observed in Jersey City by a parade of three thousand men.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 2.—This city was bedecked with bunting and flags in honor of Labor day. Business was suspended and thousands participated in the exercises.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—The rain, which fell steadily during the forenoon, interfered with the observance of Labor Day in this city.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Labor Day is being generally observed throughout the city as a holiday, particularly by the wage workers.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was observed in this city to-day. The public buildings were closed. About 6,000 members of the various labor organizations made a parade of the principal streets.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 2.—Labor
Day was generally observed in this city.
A large procession paraded the streets

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—There is a general cessation of business here. Organized labor made an imposing street parade.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The labor organizations of this city had a parade to-day and a picnic.

BUFFALO, Sept. 2.—The observance of Labor Day in this city was a success.

Strike Settled.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The five hundred cigar makers who have been evicted by Rosenthal & Co., at 351 East Seventy-third street, received notice this morning that their terms were accepted.

Died at the Depot.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2.—Rev.
Lorenzo T. Bennett, aged 84, the oldest Episcopal clergyman in the state, died at the depot in Guilford this morning, while waiting for a train.

German Capitalists.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The entire property of the Remington Paper company has been sold to a syndicate of German capitalists, the price paid be-

Death of a Newspaper Man.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—John A. Greene
the well known newspaper man died at
at Bay Side, Long Island.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Indiana—Rains, easterly and southerly winds, shifting to colder, westerly.

A PRISONER in a Kentucky jail attempted to commit suicide by eating two dozen pads of blotting paper.

REV. J. S. AINSLIE.

Divine Who May Become the Pastor of the Congregational Church.

The pulpit at the Congregational church yesterday morning was occupied by Rev. J. S. Ainslie, the pastor of a flourishing church at Ogdensburg, New York.

"He is a good organizer and builder, but not much of a pulpit orator," said the gentleman, a member of the Congregational church, who extended an invitation to THE SENTINEL reporter to be present at the services and hear the young divine, who, he said, might receive a call from the congregation to accept the permanent pastorate of the church.

The gentleman had probably never heard Rev. Ainslie preach or he would not have added, in reply to our question
"he is not much of a pulpit orator," for the New York pastor proved a surprise in this respect.

His sermon was preached from the 27th and 28th verses of the first chapter of Philippians. It was a scholarly and eloquent effort and the large audience present were warm in their praise of the reverend gentleman's ability as a pulpit orator.

We have not space to speak of the sermon in detail, but cannot pass it without a brief mention of his thoughts in reference to public sentiment. Public sentiment, he said, as a standard of right, was no criterion to go by. It was more liable to be wrong than right and he who conformed his conduct to it was following a very poor rule. Don't do a thing because others do it, for in nine times out of ten you will do the wrong.
If the customs and habits of people are wrong, eschew them and do the right, without waiting for public sentiment to be educated up to that point. Let your actions be as becometh the gospel of Christ.

The speakers' address covered a wide field and each thought was presented in a brief, practical and eloquent way and carried conviction with its utterance.

Rev. Ainslie also preached at the church in the evening and his sermon, like that in the morning, was an excellent one. Both of his sermons gave eminent satisfaction and the Congregational church will endeavor to secure the services of the brilliant young divine as permanent pastor of the church.

Cut Her Throat.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Mrs.
Jeannot, wife of F. T. Jeannot, an old time citizen and the leading jeweler of the city, shocked the fashionable portion of the city yesterday morning by cutting her throat with a razor; cause, despondency.

Mr. Parnell's Mother.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 2.—The reported death of Mrs. Parnell, mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, is unfounded.

Depot Destroyed.

MADRID, Sept. 3.—The fire last night completely destroyed a large freight depot with its valuable contents and nine railroad cars.

PENNY OF SPIRITS PRESENT.

At a recent seance in the house of a well-known Prohibitionist in Pennsylvania, a person supposed to be worthy of confidence, but a proverbial joker, was chosen as accomplice and placed in the cellar below the session room. The company being gathered and the raps being heard, the question was asked:
"Are there any spirits present?"

"There are!" came in response, in a semi-sepulchral tone.

"Will you please to make them known to us!" continued the medium.

"Gin, whisky, Jamaica, Santa Cruz, schnapps, cognac and about all the varieties you can think of," was the reply.—Yonkers Gazette.

MISS OLIVE RISLEY SEWARD, the adopted daughter of Lincoln's Secretary of State, lives on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, in a house purchased for her from the proceeds of the sale of Seward's "Travels Around the World," which she edited. Mr.
Seward presented her with the copyright of the book, besides leaving her a share of his property. Miss Seward is a writer of children's stories, which relate chiefly to her travels.

TWO TOWNS BURNED.

The Fearful Work of the Fires in the Heart of the Burning Forests of Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 2.—The town of Black Pine has been destroyed by fire. It was in the heart of the burning forests. It contained a number of mills and the works of the Black Pine Mining company. The people of the town barely escaped with their lives.

The town of Gardiner, comprising thirty houses, was burned yesterday. It was situated on the edge of the National park and the inhabitants fled for their lives.

Forests in the park are burning and the troops and government employes are fighting the flames.

WILL THAW'S WILL.

He Divides His Vast Estate Among
the Charities.

The will of the late William Thaw was filed to-day.

The vast estate, estimated between
into hundreds of bequests, a large amount of it going to worthy charities.

The inheritance received by Mrs.
Thaw and each of the ten children approximates three quarters of a million dollars each.

Compound Oxygen Association of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Our city now, like the larger cities of the east and west, has parlors supplied with the appliances for administering the Oxygen Treatment. This is no new treatment; but has been in favor for years in our eastern cities. There is no remedy that so directly deals with the vital processes that sustain life in the body, as Compound Oxygen. The purification of the blood depends upon the air we breathe. The afflicted travel hundreds of miles to find in the mountains or by the seashore and atmosphere richer in oxygen to rebuild their bodies by its effect upon their blood; compound oxygen is generated by the usual chemical processes and purified, and inhaled by the patient. The effect is immediate and permanent. The blood is purified, every organ of the body derives new strength and the weak become strong. Consumption and all lung and throat troubles yield readily to this treatment, as the remedy reaches the very seat of disease. The dyspeptic and the nervous sufferer whose troubles were most likely brought upon him by breathing the bad air of ill-ventilated rooms, find in compound oxygen a remedy that will give speedy and permanent relief. A trial treatment will be given free to any one who will call at the palors of the association, No. 41, West Berry street, Fort Wayne.

A JUSTICE of Logan Township, Blair County, Pennsylvania, has a perplexing case. A blacksmith built a wagon for another citizen, painting it brown, and refusing to change the color to green. In the night the citizen entered the shop and gave the vehicle a coat of paris green. Early next morning the blacksmith's cow, spying the verdurous tint, licked it off and died.
The blacksmith now wants damages for his cow.

A HARROW SUSPICION.

He—And you are sure that I am the first and only man who ever kissed you?
She—Of course I am sure. You do not doubt my word, do you?

He—Of course I do not doubt you, my darling! I love you too madly, too devotedly for that. But why, oh, why did you reach for the lines the very instant I ventured to put my arm around you if you had never been there before?

was kept up to prevent an invasion, but the fuel was exhausted before the mass of invaders, which had an unbroken front of six miles.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN was on a big drunk last Friday, the day his mother died.

MR. HENRY C. BERGHOFF, the retiring city treasurer, leaves his office with a clean, honest record. He has been an efficient, faithful official and re-enters business life with a host of warm friends.

The seventy-sixth anniversary of Commodore Perry's victory on Lake Erie, September 10, 1819, will be celebrated at Put-in-Bay in conjunction with the laying of a corner stone for the new hotel Victory at that place.

The season was opened Saturday night at the Temple with Keene and his company in "Othello." The audience was a large and brilliant one. Keene was at his best, and charmed his admirers with his magnificent rendition of the character of the Moor. He was ably supported by Mr. George Learock, as "Iago," Miss Lavina Shannon, as "Desdemona," and Miss Henrietta Vaders as "Emilia," with the remaining characters well filled. The opening night of the Temple was a success, and Manager Simmonson deserves credit for placing such attractions before the Fort Wayne public.

OUR SONS OF TOIL.

The workmen of the city are celebrating Labor Day to-day, and the program of their exercises, as far as we were able to get it up to the hour of going to press, is published elsewhere. It has been a great day and will probably be a feature characterizing each recurrence of the 2d day of September in the years to come.

In this busy world such holidays are probably right and proper. Many manufacturing establishments and other industries are so situated at this season that it has been impossible for them to close down, but all have given those of their employees who wished to do so the opportunity of participating in the day's festivities.

The relation between labor and capital is a close and intimate one. Neither can get along in this world without the other, and their relations at all times should be friendly and harmonious. Fort Wayne has been peculiarly favored in this respect. When troubles have existed all over the country, there has scarcely been the semblance of a disturbance between the employer and the employee in this city, all disputes being amicably arranged. This is as it should be. Fort Wayne can well afford to be proud of her sons of toil, and THE SENTINEL sends them its greeting, with the earnest hope that their lot in this world may always be a happy and prosperous one.

MILLIONS of people regard the Bible as the most valuable book in the world aside from its mechanical make-up and appearance. But in a commercial sense a Hebrew Bible at the Vatican in Rome is said to be the most valuable book in the world. In 1512 Pope Julius, then in great financial straits, refused to sell it to a syndicate of rich Venetian Jews for its weight in gold. The Bible weighs more than 325 pounds, and is never carried by less than three men. The price refused by Pope Julius was, therefore, about $125,000, and that, too, when gold was worth at least three times what it is now worth.

POOR CARLOTTA, ex-Empress of Mexico, lives in the Castle of Boushout, in Belgium, in strict seclusion. Once a year, for a day—the day of Fete Dieu—the castle grounds are opened to the public, and a formal procession of priests and citizens passes through. This year the ex-Empress was seen to be watching the procession from a window of the castle. Her hair is now quite white, but otherwise she has not changed for years.

AN English journal puts the liquor problem in this form: Twenty-five snakes running through the streets—that's free whisky. Twenty-five snakes gathered into a box in which twenty-five holes are made by authority of the court—that is low license. Ten of the holes are closed and the snakes all get through the other fifteen—that is high license. Drive all the snakes over to the next village—that is local option. Kill all the snakes—that is prohibition.

It is an Ohio man who now makes a curious discovery. He says if you go out to feed a flock of chickens and keep them waiting they will first flock about you and then begin a circuit around you from right to left, and that no amount of interruption or maneuvering will confuse or turn them in another direction.

THERE has been a competition among stenographers to decide how many words can be written on a postal card. Sylvanus Jones, of Richmond, Va., has taken the prize by writing 36,764 words. Mr. Jones is a shorthand writer employed by the Brighthope Railway Company, of Richmond.

THE PLAN DIDN'T WORK.

Farmer Crowder had finished planting his corn, but his heart was heavy. He knew the crows were whetting their bills to pull up the corn as soon as it appeared above the surface.

"I can tell you how to get away with the crows," said neighbor Stokes. "How?"

"Get you a gallon of mean whisky and soak some corn in it till it gets full of the stuff, and then scatter it broadcast in the field. The black rascals will eat it and get drunk, and then you can catch 'em and pull their heads off. That beats pizen or shootin'."

In a few days Farmer Crowder met his friend Stokes.

"Well, how's the crows?" queried Stokes.

"My corn's bodaciously ruint," replied Crowder, dolefully. "I tried that 'ere scheme o' yourn, and it's a humbug. I soaked the corn and scattered it one day, and next morn' I went to the new ground to see how it'd worked."

"Found 'em drunk, eh?"

"Found nothin'. I hear a devil of a fuss down nigh the branch and went to see what it was; there was a dad blasted old crow what had gathered up all the whisky corn an' had it on a stump, an' he was retailin' it out to the others, givin' 'em one grain 'o that sort for three grains o' my planted corn, and dinged if they hadn't clawed up that field in sections."—Atlanta Journal.

IT WON'T BAKE BREAD.—In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

If you do not receive your SENTINEL regularly, please notify us immediately, either in person or by postal card, that we may remedy the fault.

News About Town.

THE pistol that wasn't loaded is killing as many people this summer as usual. It is one of the most dangerous weapons known to science.

Hark! hark! 'tis SOZODONT I cry, Haste youths and maidens, come and buy. Come and a secret I'll unfold, At small expense to young and old. A charm that will on both bestow A ruby lip and teeth like snow.

There was a terrible epidemic of dysentery and bloody flux in Pope County, Illinois last summer. As many as five deaths occurred in one day. Messrs. Walter Brothers, of Waltersburg, sold over 380 bottles of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy during this epidemic, and say that they never heard of its failing in any case when the directions were followed. It was the only medicine used that did cure the worst cases. Many persons were cured by it after the doctors had given them up. 25 and 60 cent bottles for sale by Geo. H. Loesch.

Grates and open stoves using No. 5 Mixer or smaller, where boilers or furnaces are also used for heating the premises, shall be charged $7.50 each per annum.

The company will make all necessary connections with its street mains and run service pipes to the curb line without expense to the consumer.

The mixers are owned by the company, and are furnished without charge. Patrons are cautioned against interfering with them in any manner. Any defective service on the part of the company will be promptly attended to, upon notice to the office. A damper in the stove pipe is necessary to insure successful service.

All bills are due on the 1st day of the month, and payable in advance at THE OFFICE OF THE COMPANY. Ten days' grace is allowed to patrons who pay promptly, but BILLS MUST BE PAID ON OR BEFORE THE 1st OF EACH MONTH TO SAVE DISCOUNT. Allowing the time for discount to expire before making payment does not give an extension of time on the bill.

All applications, notices and complaints must be made at the office to insure prompt attention. The business of the company MUST be transacted at its OFFICE. If you do not clearly understand any point in this circular, call at this office and explanations will be cheerfully given.

THE MIXER is the bulb through which the gas passes to be mixed with air. A No. 5 mixer is the size generally used for domestic purposes and will supply sufficient gas for heating equal to an ordinary hard coal stove, burning from 4 1/2 to 5 tons of coal during the season. No. 7 and upward are for hot air furnaces and steam heating apparatus.

No. 7 mixer has 5-32 opening. No. 9 mixer has 3-16 opening. Special attention is called to the annual rates, which are much below the cost of coal, wood or gasoline.

Furnace or cook stove will be counted as one stove, and where additional fires are used they will be figured on the basis of reduction named in price list. Annual contracts are payable in six monthly installments, commencing with the date of connection, between November 1 and May 1, and continuing to April 1, and commencing on November 1 if necessary to complete six monthly installments. If connection is under Annual Contracts are made after May 1, but previous to November 1, then such monthly payments shall begin November 1 and continue to April 1.

Any consumer using $40.00 worth of gas per year according to above schedule shall have the right to require gas to be furnished by meter measurement instead of schedule rates; in which case the company shall have the right to charge ten (10) cents per 1,000 feet. Standard meters will be furnished by the company. For all manufacturing purposes and for all other consumers not designated in the foregoing schedule, gas shall be furnished at the option of the consumer as follows: First, by special agreement, or second, by meter measurement not exceeding seven (7) cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver and disease-preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names and guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health. Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with fine, delicate flavoring.

Send for a beautiful book free.

St. Paul schools in this city. A few days ago his son died.

Several miles of the natural gas mains remain to be laid between this city and Montpelier. It is stated on good authority that the line will be completed and gas blown through pipes in this city one week from next Wednesday.

In the Labor Day parade Centlivre's brewery had a sketch of their ruined brewery, on which was the inscription, "Slightly Disfigured but Still in the Ring." An amusing coincidence was that Rev. S. A. Northrop had the same motto on his Clinton street residence, referring of course, to the torn up condition of the Baptist church.

St. Paul's Lutheran church will be dedicated on Sunday, the 15th inst.
There will be services in the morning by Rev. Zorn, of Cleveland, in German, and in the afternoon by Rev. Theo.
Gross, of St. Louis, in German. In the evening Prof. Crull will speak in English. On the Monday following Rev. Wilkomm will lead in the services.
The church will be closed three days before the dedication.

UNDER ONE MANAGEMENT.

The "Muncie" and the Whitewater Valley Railroad to be Consolidated—News From the Bury Centers.

Within the last six months the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville Railroad company has expended a considerable sum of money in improving the Whitewater Valley road, says the Indianapolis Journal, and now the rumor comes that the two roads are to be consolidated. The stock of both roads has been quite active of late, both in the Boston and New York markets. The Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville road extends from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Connersville, Ind., a distance of 104 miles, and in addition has a branch twenty-four miles long running between a point on the main line and Rushville, Ind. The Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville is the name of the old reorganized Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati. There are outstanding on the road $4,000,000 of stock, and $100,000 of notes due in 1893. The road had a surplus of $66,000 in 1888 over interest charges, etc. Elijah Smith, is the president. Mr. Smith is also president of the Whitewater railroad, which operates between Valley, O., and Cambridge City, Ind., a distance of sixty-five miles. This road was formerly the Whitewater Valley railroad, which was sold at foreclosure in 1878, and reorganized under the present title.
It has $1,300,000 of stock, and no bonds, and has made a small deficit in recent years. It will be noticed that there are no bonds on either road. It is understood to be the intention of the consolidators to exchange both stocks for the stock of the new company, and also to make an issue of first mortgage bonds covering all the property of both roads.

THE GOSSIP OF THE DAY.

This is the workingmen's day.

The Bass works and the Pittsburg shops closed to-day.

Every passenger train entering the city to-day brought crowds of excursionists to attend the Labor Day demonstration.

Fred Boese, of the East Pittsburg yards, is being congratulated over the arrival at his home of a bright faced baby boy.

General Manager Hays, of the Wabash has issued a circular forbidding the employees to smoke around the shops and depot buildings of the company.

A large number of the Pittsburg and Bass employees are off to-day on account of Labor Day. The Wabash shops are closed, as are also many of the other manufacturing establishments.

Last week one day, near Carey, Ohio, Col. O. L. Perry's boyhood home, as Conductor Hart's train on the railroad was coming from Findlay at a roadside beyond Vanlue, a farmer appeared on the track vigorously waving a lantern.

The train came to a sudden stop and upon inquiry being made as to why the train was flagged, the farmer said: "I expected my daughter and I wanted to see if she was on this train." Search failed to reveal her and the farmer and train both resumed their journey to their respective destinations.

As noted in the local columns of THE SENTINEL Saturday C. J. Sossenheimer, the city treasurer, assumed the duties of the office to which he was elected last spring. For years he has been connected with the Pittsburg shops in this city, working his way from the employees ranks to the position of assistant foreman and clerk of the copper shops.

He is a young man of ability and will manage the affairs of his new and responsible office in a careful way. Going from the ranks of shopmen to that of a city official our reporter voices the sentiment of the Pittsburg men in giving him a farewell, coupled with an earnest wish for his success. Charley will not forget his shopmates. The honors of a city office with its increased emoluments will not cause him to forget that he was once a shopman. He will be the same "Charley" of old.

Two Infant Fires.

The fire department was called to South Broadway last Saturday evening to extinguish a small blaze smouldering in Mr. Louis Rastetter's factory. A fire had caught away up in the box-like ventilator on the roof, in position to sweep the fine building, but luckily it was daylight and the flames were speedily smothered. The loss will not exceed $10.

A lamp in the boot and shoe store of Peter Eggeman, on East Main street, exploded between 10 and 11 o'clock last Saturday night and started a dangerous fire. Men burst in the doors and smothered the blaze before the fire department arrived. Mr. Eggeman's desk was burned and with it some bills and papers and in turn these were kicked out into the street.

DANIEL IN THE LION'S DEN.

Dan Rice, the old circus man, tells how he once played the part of Daniel in the Lion's Den. His lion performer had quit, and he sent for a young woman to fill the vacancy. When she was introduced to the lions, she hesi-tated about entering the cage. Dan laughed at her timidity, and with the impetuosity which characterized him in his show days he cried:

"What! afraid of a lion? Here, give me your whip and I'll go in."

On the sudden impulse of the moment, Dan opened the door and sprang into the cage among the sullen beasts.
The boss lion was crouched in a corner, and two other lions were reclining near him. Slowly the boss raised his head, and opening his great sleepy eyes cast a look at the intruder. Then he got upon his feet and advanced majestically toward the man who had dared to beard the lion in his den, the Douglass in his hall.

Dan says he never realized until that moment how big an animal a lion was, although he had owned scores of them.

"Git back!" yelled Dan, in those thunder tones that had often made the boss canvas-man tremble. Then he stamped his foot and cut the air furiously with his whip.

But the lion didn't get back; he raised up on his hind feet, and reached out with his fore paws until he seemed to fill the entire cage, except a narrow corner in which his would-be master was crouching.

Daniel says the lion at that moment looked to be about sixteen feet high in his stocking-feet, and he wondered how his scriptural namesake ever dared to venture into his presence, armed simply with a green cotton umbrella, as seen in the early prints.

As the lion wouldn't back out, Dan did, not so gracefully as he would have liked, for he was precipitated backward into the arms of two canvas-men who were fortunately standing by. It was Rice's first and last appearance as Daniel in the Lion's Den.

STRANGER than fiction are the vicissitudes of fortune. After the first Napoleon was finally overthrown at Waterloo his dashing cavalry marshal, Prince Murat, became an exile, and as a farmer in New Jersey, his son droye a milk wagon and peddled that harmless beverage among the citizens of New Jersey. Time passed on and the milkman was recalled to France by the third Napoleon and again became a Prince of the Empire. His son and heir has won the hand of an American heiress, Miss Gwendoline Caldwell, and the world of fashion joins in congratulating the belle who has carried away the regal prize in the matrimonial market. From a throne to ignoble exile is not an infrequent tumble, but to be exalted from the milk-wagon to princely estates does not so often happen. It is not a bad world after all, in which such changes of fortune are possible.

wear belts are affected somewhat the same as women who lace tightly.

THESE ARE THE FASHION.
size legs he desired, he wanted to
I intend to break the record or bust."
So if you see a man on the street whose pants are trousers, I should have said flap like the assle on a double-breasted sackooner, you may know him to be the

Festivities.

This was a gala day for organized la-
bor unions of this city.

Labor union some years ago as labor's
aside as a legal holiday.

taking advantage of the liberal excu-
sion rates offered by all the railroads.

streets were filled with spectators, trades and labor unions, uniformed men, wagons belocked in high colors,
and other things, a sight of itself excit-
tin horns, etc.

order was as follows:

Police patrol and police force.
President George B. Beach of the
carriage.

the following organizations:

drum corps, typographical union, stationary engineers, with drum corps, Roosevelt band, order of railway travellers, Wayne Castle No. 3 of Golden Eagles, Sports and Brunswick baseball team, Rifles, under command
band, butchers, fire department, brick-
firemen, sugarbakers, switchmen and others.

affair, being represented by manufac-
many novel features.

They came in the following order:
Charles F. Muhler, lime, tile, etc.;
Clayton, Purcell & Co., commission
liquor; Sam, Pete & Max, clothing; H.
J. Ash, stores; Skellott, Watt & Will,

man's Emporium, Ryan Brothers' ele-
P. Cox, plumbing, John Pressler, natural gas supply.

which were addresses by Mrs. E. C.
Williams-Patterson, of Chicago; Mr.
William Nichols, of Indianapolis; President Hunch also delivered an address.
There was a game of ball between the
ascension was to take place by Professor Kuebler, of Peoria. The city and coun-

A Mob of Workmen Temporarily
to Leave Their Labors.

tion is unchanged this morning.
toward a settlement.

Albert docks this afternoon and com-
labors.

HIM.

PRINCETON, Ind., Sept. 2.—D.
Doughly, a prominent lawyer of Oak-
struck on the head and killed by Kora
left him and employed Doughly to secure a divorce. Doughly went to her
dignation runs high.

WAGE TROUBLE.
The Military Called Out in Louisiana to Quell a Disturbance.

out of the Farmer's Alliance organization. Two negroes opened stores, styl-
companies of militia.

trial.

Looms Idle.

THE DAY IN OTHER CITIES!

and Other Cities of

generally observed. Business was almost wholly suspended and the streets were a Sunday like appearance. The weather is cool and clear. Extraordi-
festively celebrated, and some twenty
the day.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—The weather here is clear and hot. Labor Day is
two parades. Neither faction, however,
show the greatest depletion. Factories
in honor of the day.

Day was generally observed in this city.
principal streets.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 2.—Labor Day is being generally observed here to-day.
A large trades assembly parade formed at 10 o'clock and passed through the principal streets.

in the past two years. Business is unusually suspended.

JANESVILLE, N. J., Sept. 2.—Labor
parade of three thousand men.

was belocked with bunting and flags in
in the exercises.

fell steadily during the forenoon, inter-
in this city.

PAIDLEIGH, Sept. 2.—Labor Day is being generally observed throughout
the wage workers.

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was observed in this city to-day. The pulpit buildings were closed. About 6,000 members of the various labor organiza-
streets.

Day was generally observed in this city.

general cessation of business here. Or-

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The labor organizations of this city had a parade to-day and a picnic.

BUFALO, Sept. 2.—The observance of

Strike Notice.
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The five hundred cigar makers who have been evicted by Roosevelt & Co., at 351 East Sev-
morning that their terms were accepted.

Died at the Depot.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2.—Rev.
Lawrence T. Bennett, aged 84, the oldest Episcopal clergyman in the state, died at the depot in Guilford this morning, while waiting for a train.

German Capitalists.
WATERBURY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The

Death of a Newspaper Man.
the well known newspaper man died at
at Day Side, Long Island.

REV. J. N. AINSIE.
Divine Who May Become the Pastor of the Congregational Church.

church yesterday morning was occupied by Rev. J. N. Ainsie, the pastor of a flourishing church at Ogdenburg, New York.

"He is a good organizer and builder,
present at the service and hear the
ceive a call from the congregation to ac-
church.

The gentleman had probably never heard Rev. Ainsie preach or he would
in this respect.

27th and 28th verses of the first chapter of Philippians. It was a scholarly and
present were warm in their praise of the
orator.

We have not space to speak of the
in reference to public sentiment. Pub-
no who conformed his conduct to it was following a very poor road. Don't do a
times out of ten you will do the wrong.
actions be governed by the gospel of Christ.

carried conviction with its utterance.

Rev. Ainsie also preached at the church in the evening and his sermon,
like that in the morning, was an excel-
evident satisfaction and the Congrega-

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Mrs.
Jennet, wife of F. T. Jennet, an old
cutting her throat with a razor; cause, despondency.

Mr. Farnell's Mother.
BONHOMME, N. J., Sept. 2.—The reported death of Mrs. Farnell, mother of Charles Stewart Farnell, is unfounded.

Repet Destroyed.
MAUM, Sept. 3.—The fire last night
nine railroad cars.

PERRY OF SPIRITS PRESENT.
At a recent session in the house of a well-known prohibitionist in Pennsylv-
of confidence, but a proverbial joker, was chosen as accompanist and placed in
company being gathered and the rapping heard, the question was asked:

"Are there any spirits present?"
"There are!" came in response, in a semi-sarcastic tone.

"Will you please to make them known to us?" continued the moderator.
"Gin, whisky, Jamaica, Santa Cruz,
schnapps, cognac and about all the
varieties you can think of," was the reply.—Yonkers Gazette.

Miss OLIVE RIGLEY SEWARD, the
adopted daughter of Lincoln's Secre-
chased for her from the proceeds of the sale of Seward's "Travels Around the World," which she edited. Mr.
right of his book, besides leaving her a share of its profits. Miss Seward is a writer of children's stories, which relate chiefly to her travels.

San Francisco for the last fifteen years has been 55 degrees. The highest for any month was 59 degrees and the lowest 50 degrees.

Mr. GLADSTONE has increased his allowance of wine for dinner, rarely drinking less than a pint of his favorite port now. He says that quantity affects him less than a half pint did a generation ago.

TWO TOWNS BURNED.

The Terrible Work of the Fire in
Paradise of Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 2.—The town
and the works of the Black Pine Mining
barely escaped with their lives.

The town of Gardiner, comprising
lives.

are fighting the flames.

Wm. Thaw's Will.
He Divides His Vast Estate Among
the Charities.

filed to-day.

into hundreds of bequests, a large amount of it going to worthy charities.
The inheritance received by Mrs.
Thaw and each of the ten children ap-
dollars each.

Compound Oxygen Association of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Our city now, like the larger cities of the east and west, has factors supplied with the appliances for administering the Oxygen Treatment. This is no new
cure so directly deals with the vital processes that sustain life in the body, as Compound Oxygen. The purification of the blood depends upon the air we breathe. The affected travel hundreds of miles to find in the mountains or by the seashore and atmospheric riches in oxygen to rebuild their bodies
chemical processes and purified, and inhaled by the patient. The effect is im-
to this treatment, as the remedy reaches
rooms, find in compound oxygen a re-
free to any one who will call at the parlor of the association, No. 41, West Berry street, Fort Wayne.

A Justice of Logan Township, Blair
County, Pennsylvania, has a perplex-
for another citizen, painting it brown,
and refusing to change the color to
tered the shop and gave the vehicle a
ing the blacksmith's cow, spying the vordrons tint, licked it off and died.
for his cow.

A NARROW SINGING.
Ho—And you are sure that I am the first and only man who ever kissed you?
not doubt my word, do you?

Ho—Of course I do not doubt you, my darling. I love you too madly, too
you if you had never loved me before?

Yesterday, "Squire Scarlet" roared his fifty-seventh milestone. He was born in Clark county, Ohio, and is one of a family of six children over one of whom was born on Saturday afternoon, which is surely a remarkable coincidence.

Mr. Neiretor, a fireman on the Wabash railroad, died Saturday night of typhoid fever after a lingering illness. A widow, a bride of a few weeks, survives him. The remains will be shipped to-morrow afternoon to Andrews for interment, a short service being conducted at the house previous to the removal of the remains.

Mr. Will Friend will leave to-night for New York City to enter upon his new engagement with the Annie Pixley company. Mr. Friend's co-operation with the city editor of THE SENTINEL in the production of "The Mystery of a Hard Boiled Egg" is therefore declared off. THE SENTINEL wishes Mr. Friend success. He is a clever young comedian.

Mr. John Morgan, a representative of the starring Clay county miners, is in the city. At the distribution of funds at Brazil on Friday the amount of money distributed was but six cents per capita. The total number of dependents is 5,721. As yet the mine owners have shown no disposition to yield any point in order that a settlement of the difficulty might be made.

Mr. Wm. Need, foreman at Louis Fox & Bro., and Assistant Foreman Frank Bolt are at Chicago on a pleasure trip.

The last will of the late Mrs. Allen Hamilton was filed for probate with County Clerk Leeg. It gives to Margaret V. Hamilton her household property and her savings; $1,000 to the cause of woman suffrage; $5,000 to her five children to be divided equally after three years, during which time the dividend is to be equally divided among her grand children. Her household is worth $50,000, and her personal estate $15,000. Mrs. Margaret Hamilton is named as administratrix.

The "Hancock" and the Whitewater Valley Railroad to be Consolidated—News From the Busy Centers.

Within the last six months the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville Railroad company has expended a considerable sum of money in improving the Whitewater Valley road, says the Indianapolis Journal, and now the rumor comes that the two roads are to be consolidated. The stock of both roads has been quite active of late, both in the Boston and New York markets. The Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville road extends from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Connersville, Ind., a distance of 104 miles, and in addition has a branch twenty-four miles long running between a point on the main line and Rushville, Ind. The Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville is the name of the old reorganized Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati. There are outstanding on the road $4,000,000 of stock, and $100,000 of notes due in 1893. The road had a surplus of $66,000 in 1888 over interest charges, etc. Elijah Smith, is the president. Mr. Smith is also president of the Whitewater railroad, which operates between Valley, O., and Cambridge City, Ind., a distance of sixty-five miles. This road was formerly the Whitewater Valley railroad, which was sold at foreclosure in 1878, and reorganized under the present title. It has $1,500,000 of stock, and no bonds, and made a small deficit in recent years. It will be noticed that there are no bonds on either road. It is understood to be the intention of the consolidators to exchange both stocks for the stock of the new company, and also to make an issue of first mortgage bonds covering all the property of both roads.

THE CURSE OF THE DAY.

This is the workmen's day.

The Bass works and the Pittsburg shops closed to-day.

Every passenger train entering the city to-day brought crowds of excursionists to attend the Labor Day demonstration.

Mr. Boese, of the East Pittsburg yards, is being congratulated over the arrival at his home of a bright faced baby boy.

General Manager Hays, of the Wabash has issued a circular forbidding the employees to smoke around the shops and depot buildings of the company.

A large number of the Pittsburg and Bass employees are off to-day on account of Labor Day. The Wabash shops are closed, as are also many of the other manufacturing establishments.

Last week one day, near Carey, Ohio, Col. O. L. Perry's boyhood home, as Conductor Hart's train on the railroad beyond Vanlue, a farmer appeared on the track vigorously waving a lantern.

The train came to a sudden stop and upon inquiry being made as to why the train was flagged, the farmer said: "I expected my daughter and I wanted to see if she was on this train."

Search failed to reveal her and the farmer and train both resumed their journey to their respective destinations.

An noted in the local columns of THE SENTINEL Saturday C. J. Sosenheimer, the city treasurer, assumed the duties of the office to which he was elected last spring. For years he has been connected with the Pittsburg shops in this city, working his way from the employes' ranks to the position of assistant foreman and clerk of the copper shops.

He is a young man of ability and will manage the affairs of his new and responsible office in a careful way. Going from the ranks of shopmen to that of a city official our reporter voices the sentiment of the Pittsburg men in giving him a farewell, coupled with an earnest wish for his success. Charley will not forget his shopmates. The honors of a city office with its increased emoluments will not cause him to forget that he was once a shopman. He will be the same "Charley" of old.

TWO INFANT FIRES.

The fire department was called to South Broadway last Saturday evening to extinguish a small blaze smoldering in Mr. Louis Bastotter's factory. A fire had caught away up in the box-like ventilator on the roof, in position to sweep the fine building, but luckily it was daylight and the flames were speedily smothered. The loss will not exceed $10.

A lump in the boot and shoe store of Peter Eggeman, on East Main street, exploded between 10 and 11 o'clock last Saturday night and started a dangerous fire. Men burst in the doors and smothered the blaze before the fire department arrived. Mr. Eggeman's stock was burned and with it some bills and papers and in turn these were kicked out into the street.

DANGER IN THE LION'S DEN.

Dan Rice, the old circus man, tells how he once played the part of Daniel in the Lion's Den. His lion performed had quit, and he sent for a young woman to fill the vacancy. When she was introduced to the lions, she hesitated about entering the cage. Dan laughed at her timidity, and with the impetuosity which characterized him in his show days he cried:

"What! afraid of a lion? Here, give me your whip and I'll go in."

On the sudden impulse of the moment, Dan opened the door and sprang into the cage among the sulley beasts. The lion was crouched in a corner, and two other lions were reclining near him. Slowly the boss raised his head, and opening his great sleepy eyes cast a look at the intruder. Then he got upon his feet and advanced majestically toward the man who had dared to board the lion in his den, the Douglas in his hall.

Dan says he never realized until that moment how big an animal a lion was, although he had owned scores of them.

"Git back!" yelled Dan, in those thunder tones that had often made the boss canvas men tremble. Then he stamped his foot and out the air furiously with his whip.

But the lion didn't get back; he raised up on his hind foot and reached out with his fore paw until he seemed to fill the entire cage, except a narrow corner in which his would-be master was crouching.

Daniel says the lion at that moment looked to be about sixteen feet high in his stocking-feet, and he wondered how his scriptural namesake ever dared to venture into his presence, armed simply with a green cotton umbrella, as seen in the early prints.

As the lion wouldn't back out, Dan did, not so gracefully as he would have liked, for he was precipitated backward into the arms of two canvas men who were fortunately standing by. It was Rice's first and last appearance as Daniel in the Lion's Den.

STRANGER THAN FICTION are the vicissitudes of fortune. After the first Napoleon was finally overthrown at Waterloo his dashing cavalry marshal, Prince Murat, became an exile, and, as a farmer in New Jersey, his son drove a milk wagon and peddled that harmless beverage among the citizens of New Jersey. Time passed on and the milkman was recalled to France by the third Napoleon and again became a Prince of the Empire. His son said he has won the hand of an American heiress, Miss Gwendoline Caldwell, and the world of fashion joins in congratulating the belle who has carried away the royal prize in the matrimonial market. From a throne to ignoble exile is not an infrequent tumble, but to be exalted from the milk-wagon to princely estates does not so often happen. It is not a bad world after all, in which such changes of fortune are possible.

A doctor says that young men who wear belts are affected somewhat the same as women who lace tightly.
